

From the Dean

Dr. Paul Sniegowski, Dean of the College and Professor of Biology

June 25, 2020

Dear College Students,

The University announcement detailing Penn's plans for the fall semester was sent out today. We want to give you some guidance within this broader framework and remind you of key resources as you plan for the new school year.

Please watch this video message from Dean Sniegowski about the fall semester. You can also find more information on the College's resource page and on the University site for fall planning.
