Dear Member of the Class of 2023,

Welcome to Penn and to the College of Arts and Sciences! We know you are looking forward to the exciting and life-transforming opportunities that await you. We would like to direct your attention to the first steps in that journey.

Your primary guide for academic information and next steps in the College can be found online in Compass which is in Penn's learning management system, Canvas. Canvas is a tool you will eventually use for many of your classes. Compass will answer many of your initial questions and present new ideas that you may want to incorporate into your academic plans. You will need to move through Compass, complete the Advising Questionnaire, take the Math Diagnostic and speak with your pre-major advisor in order to request fall courses by July 19th.

For more information about accessing Compass, see below.

You will have many decisions to make this summer and throughout your time at Penn, but please be assured that you will not have to make them alone. In mid-June, you will receive another email from the College Office with contact information for your peer and pre-major advisors. Your pre-major advisor will help you craft your academic path this summer and over the next two years at Penn.

Once again, welcome to the College of Arts and Sciences! We'll be back in touch in mid-June.

Sincerely Yours,

Paul Sniegowski
Dean of the College, Professor of Biology

Janet Tighe
Dean of Freshmen and Director of Academic Advising

Hello College Class of 2023,

It is time to meet your pre-major and peer advisors! You will need to move through Compass to Module 4: “Summer Advising” and complete the first four steps in that module. Once you have completed these steps, you can log in to see the contact information for your pre-major and peer advisors.

Please make arrangements with your pre-major advisor to begin your advising conversations by phone, in-person or Skype. You will need to discuss your courses with your pre-major advisor before Advance Registration ends on July 19th in order to request courses for the fall.

If you have any questions, please contact your peer or pre-major advisor or you can call the College office at 215-898-6341.

We are looking forward to your arrival in August. Have a great summer!

Sincerely,

The College
