Single Degree Email:

Dear Wharton Class of 2025:

Welcome to Wharton and Penn!

COHORTS

All incoming first-year students are assigned to one of nine Wharton undergraduate cohorts of approximately 60 students. Visit the student life section of Undergrad Inside to learn more about cohorts.

Cohort: *Student's cohort assignment is included in personalized email
Cohort Leaders: *Cohort leader name and email are included

Your next module is now available in Canvas — in this module you'll watch welcome videos from me and your cohort leaders!

ADVISING

There will be several ways to connect with me and get advice over the summer:

- Complete the summer Canvas course modules to find answers to most of your questions and learn about advising, the curriculum, and first-year course selection.

- Attend an online cohort advising session. This will be a great opportunity to meet me and fellow members of your cohort and to ask questions about course requirements and registration. Instructions for signing up for these group sessions will be available once you have completed the required modules in Canvas.

- Send an email if you have a quick question that you cannot find the answer to on Undergrad Inside, e.g., what math class should I register for based on my Diagnostic Placement Exam score? Our business hours are 9 am to 5 pm (EDT), so we will only respond to messages during this time. Also, please allow 2 business days (Monday through Friday) for a reply.

WHARTON 101

You will soon be enrolled in your first required Wharton course—Wharton 101: Business and You. Your assigned section is listed below. Do not change or drop your Wharton 101 registration. You should plan all other courses around WH 101. If you have any scheduling concerns, contact me via email.

Wharton 101: *Student's WH 101 section assignment included in personalized email

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

You will request additional courses during Advance Registration, which will run Monday, June 21 - Friday, July 16. You can modify requests at any time during that period, but whatever courses you have selected as of 11:59 (EDT) on July 16 will be processed by the scheduling system. The system may or may not grant all your requests, but you will be able to add, delete, or modify courses in your schedule starting July 27.

You can learn more about which courses to request and how to request them on Undergrad Inside, your go-to academic resource for the next four years.

REMINDERS

- Continue progressing through Canvas.
- Check the first-year calendar and Penn10 to keep track of tasks and deadlines.

I look forward to seeing you online this summer and getting to know you better in the coming year and beyond!

Joseph Wharton Scholar Single Degree Email

Dear Joseph Wharton Scholar Class of 2025:

Welcome to Wharton and Penn!

COHORTS

All incoming first-year students are assigned to one of nine Wharton undergraduate cohorts of approximately 60 students. Visit the student life section of Undergrad Inside to learn more about cohorts. Your cohort assignment:

Cohort: *Student's cohort assignment is included in personalized email
Cohort Leaders: *Cohort leader name and email are included

Your next module is now available in Canvas – in this module you'll watch welcome videos from me and your cohort leaders!

ADVISING

As a JWS student, Dr. Utsav Schurmans will be your main point of contact for advising. You are welcome to introduce yourself to me via email, but please direct course registration and requirement questions to Utsav.

WHARTON 101

You will soon be enrolled in your first required Wharton course—Wharton 101: Business and You. Your assigned section is listed below. Do not change or drop your Wharton 101 registration. You should plan all other courses around WH 101. If you have any scheduling concerns, contact me.

Wharton 101: *Student's WH 101 section assignment included in personalized email

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

You will request additional courses during Advance Registration, which will run Monday, June 21 - Friday, July 16. You can modify requests at any time during that period, but whatever courses you have selected as of 11:59 (EDT) on July 16 will be processed by the scheduling system. The system may or may not grant all your requests, but you will be able to add, delete, or modify courses in your schedule starting July 27.

REMINDERS

- Continue progressing through the Canvas modules.
- Check the first-year calendar and Penn10 to keep track of tasks and deadlines.

I look forward to seeing you online this summer and getting to know you in the coming year and beyond!

Dear ____:

Welcome to Wharton and Penn!

COHORTS

All incoming first-year students are assigned to one of nine Wharton undergraduate cohorts of approximately 60 students. Visit the student life section of Undergrad Inside to learn more about cohorts. Your cohort assignment:

Cohort: *Student's cohort assignment is included in personalized email
Cohort Leaders: *Cohort leader name and email are included

Your next module is now available in Canvas – in this module you'll watch welcome videos from me and your cohort leaders!

ADVISING

As a coordinated dual degree program student, your program director and/or advisors will be your main points of contact over the summer. You are welcome to sign up for a cohort group advising session through Canvas or introduce yourself to me via email, but please direct course registration and requirement questions to your dual degree program advisor.

WHARTON 101

You will soon be enrolled in your first required Wharton course—Wharton 101: Business and You. Your assigned section is listed below. Do not change or drop your Wharton 101 registration. You should plan all other courses around WH 101. If you have any scheduling concerns, contact your program advisor.

Wharton 101: *Student's WH 101 section assignment included in personalized email

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

You will request additional courses during Advance Registration, which will run Monday, June 21 - Friday, July 16. You can modify requests at any time during that period, but whatever courses you have selected as of 11:59 (EDT) on July 16 will be processed by the scheduling system. The system may or may not grant all your requests, but you will be able to add, delete, or modify courses in your schedule starting July 27.

REMINDERS

- Continue progressing through the Canvas modules.

- Check the first-year calendar and Penn10 to keep track of tasks and deadlines.

I look forward to seeing you online this summer and getting to know you in the coming year and beyond!